

Someone needs to fill these pants!

(You may consider your options though)

Rocky Bilboa knows. You cant win a good fight without proper pants.

You cant make an omelet without breaking eggs.

And you cannot enjoy the party on paper without joining first.

So, whats your excuse?

Dapper is the bi-monthly international fanzine, distributed from the Netherlands, written by and for you. Yes. In English. For more information please visit www.dapper.info.

The rules are simple!

(Is it rude to point a finger?)

1. Write. 2. Submit. 3. Enjoy.

Uncle Sam knows. Dapper is a bi-monthly collaborative fan created magazine. It is easy to participate. Submit your work once every two months to the Organizing Editor. He then collates and distributes the next installment of Dapper. Costs? Copy and postage (and some of your precious time). Subjects allowed? Pretty much anything, with a distinct preference for Science Fiction and Fantasy. (Feel free to include any sure-fire get-rich-quick schemes as well.) So, what are you waiting for? Join Dapper! Join the party on paper!
